Sustainable Investing Graduate Programme 2024

Sustainable Investing
Hong Kong

Who we are
We've been helping clients plan and invest for their futures for over 50 years. From more than 25 locations around the world, we provide investment services and retirement expertise to everyone from central banks to private individuals. We're known for acting with integrity and thinking for the long-term. And across our organisation, we foster a welcoming, caring and inclusive culture where people feel respected, trusted and able to be themselves.

The team you'll join
We consider the longer-term consequences of our actions in both financial and societal terms. Our approach to integrating sustainability considerations in our investment processes is aimed at protecting and enhancing our client returns in a way that helps create a more sustainable financial system for society as a whole.

In the Sustainable Investing (SI) Team, you will help to support the integration of sustainability into Fidelity’s fundamental investment research and security selection process. The SI team spearheads Fidelity’s stewardship activities, including engagements with corporate issuers and other key stakeholders on sustainability matters and proxy voting, and also leads on the enhancement of Fidelity’s policies, systems, and processes to integrate sustainability considerations.

What you'll be doing
On our two-year rotational programme, you will rotate across a range of functions within the Sustainability Team, including the Client Engagement, Stewardship and Research, and Strategy, Product and Governance functions, gaining exposure to the broad range of work the team delivers to drive forward ESG integration across Fidelity.

We don’t expect you to come straight in and know everything about what we do. As a graduate, and whatever you’ve studied, we’ll help make sure you get the most out of being a full-time employee.

The difference you'll make
You’ll contribute to positive, meaningful work that make a difference to our clients. You’ll help them invest and plan for the futures they want. You’ll provide invaluable support to your team, too.

How you'll be supported
You’ll start the graduate programme with a comprehensive induction where you’ll be introduced to investment management and how it fits into the City and the financial markets. As you progress, we’ll prepare you to sit the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) Level 1 exam. And once you’ve completed the programme, you’ll be able to carry on exploring career and learning opportunities all across Fidelity.

Support is part of our culture, so you’ll have a buddy and a mentor to help you whenever you need. You will also join a close-knit early careers community, with plenty of social and networking events to help you find your feet and feel at home.

What we’re looking for
It’s who you are that matters here, rather than what you studied.

We look for graduates who are analytical, eager to learn and ready to take on a challenge. A genuine curiosity and eagerness to learn about investment and sustainability is vital, as is a lively interest in our work and our industry. Creative thinking and attention to detail are important too.

And, as we’re an international organisation, we’ll need you to speak English.

We’ll also need you to:

- be graduating in 2024 (Bachelor’s or Master’s degree)

Our clients come from all walks of life and so do we. We are proud of our inclusive culture and encourage applications from the widest mix of talent, whatever your age, gender, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, social background and more.
